POWER FOR PUMPING

W. J. Lowrie's Latest Enterprise.

MAUI NEWS AND COMMENT

Wailuku Wants a Hose Company-- Fusion on the Crater Isle-- Municipal Scheme.

Manager W. J. Lowrie, to whose foresight and indomitable pluck Spreckelsville is indebted for its recent big ditch, has inaugurated another great enterprise, no less important to the plantation, that of constructing an electric power plant in Iao Valley for the purpose of bringing power to Spreckelsville pumps.

Messrs. Grimwood & Richardson, of Honolulu, have been given charge of the construction of the plant, and have already put their men to work. Preliminary surveys are to be made, on which to base estimates for plans, cost, etc. As soon as these are completed, the machinery will be ordered and the work of construction commenced.

It will be some months yet, possibly a year, before the plant is completed and the power ready for use at the plantation pumps. But their construction is definitely determined upon, and it is Mr. Lowrie's intention to push the work to completion at once.

The proposition of bringing electric power from Iao Valley to Spreckelsville plantation has been under consideration for some time and now it is an assured fact.

WHAT HURTS BUSINESS.

The reason why there are not a dozen thriving business houses in Wailuku today, handling goods which cannot be purchased on Maui, is because of the difficulty of shipping goods direct to Kahului, and the practically prohibi-tative rates of charges for lighterage and freight on goods from ships in the harbor to stores in Wailuku. A private corporation owns Kahului and its wharves, and operates them,—as they have an undoubted right to do,—as a private corporation. True, the government owns from the high water mark, but till the government builds a wharf at Kahului, and the people open a public road to this wharf, general trade and business will have uphill road to travel in Wailuku.

MANUAL TRAINING WANTED.

If the approaching legislature wishes to make a record which will place the Territory of Hawaii among the van of progressive states and territories, it will at once fell blow abolish the false system of education now prevalent on the Island,—a system which educates young Hawaiians to become helpless and useless,—and establish in its place both primary and grammar schools where trades and industrial training are made the principal feature, with incidental instruction in the elementary branches now taught. There is not an intelligent man on the Islands, who really has the good of the Hawaiian children at heart, who would not rather see them instructed in useful and practical branches of knowledge than in puerile eulogies.

THE MUNICIPAL SCHEME.

It is now claimed that the next legislature can only appoint a commission to prepare a system of municipal corporation to be adopted two years from now, or at some other time in the dim future. If the proper committee on counties and county government be appointed, a bill effecting that purpose and dividing the Territory into counties following our present Judicial Districts, or a better division, if possible, can easily be prepared during the term of the next legislature, and made operative immediately afterwards. Where there is a will there is always a way, and if the county government bill is not passed at the next term of the legislature, and made operative immediately afterwards, it will simply be because somebody don't want it done.

HOSE COMPANY WANTED.

Wanted, a hose company. There is not a town on the Islands or anywhere else, in fact, which has a better water supply than Wailuku. True, Mr. Rowell failed to furnish hydrants for use in case of fire, claiming that he had ordered them, but that the parties from whom he ordered them failed to furnish them. While this is probably true, still it is no less true that we must and will have hydrants placed where they will be needed in case of a fire, and a hose company should be organized, and steps taken to secure at least two hose carts and a sufficient amount of hose, and all this should be done at once.
A single fire, if it occurs before means are provided to extinguish it, will cost more than a dozen hose carts and hose to equip them.

FUSION IN MAUI.

If, as now seems likely, the Democrats and Independents of Maui effect a fusion, the result will be to so evenly divide the two surviving parties as to put both on their mental in the matter of nominating candidates to the legislature, and the result will probably be that the best men on the Island will be selected as candidates. May the fittest survive.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The framework of the big sugar warehouse at Paia is about finished, and the building will soon be completed.

Judge Kalua, accompanied by his wife, is visiting on Molokai. He will return in time to reopen court on the first of October.

An epidemic of coughs and colds amounting almost to the dignity of la grippe is prevalent in Wailuku.

We are reliably informed that there is an escaped leper at Lahaina, now living with his wife who is engaged in the manufacture of curios.

There are entirely too many idle Japanese hanging about Wailuku. It would be a good idea for the police to spot a few of these flaneurs and try the inherent virtues of the vagrant law on them.

This serves as a reminder that the telephone service on Maui is far ahead of that on Oahu, and indeed one would have to go far to find a superior service, or a set of telephone operators more civil and willing to be of service.

Last night, at a called meeting of the heads of all the departments at Spreckelsville, Mr. David Center was formally introduced by Manager Lowrie as assistant manager, and he assumed his duties as such this morning.

On last Sunday, while Mr. Cyrus Green was in Wailuku, three drunken sailors boarded the Mokihana and run her on the beach. Mr. Miller has kindly tendered Mr. Green the use of the launch Takulua, and it is possible that the Mokihana can be floated again without material damage.

Additional Maui Notes.

(From a Correspondent.)

MAUI, Sept. 21.—Mr. Dave Center has commenced his new duties as assistant manager for the H. C. & S. Co. at Spreckelsville.

An additional instance of the need of a steam tug at Kahului was furnished on Thursday. The Lurline laden with sugar and molasses and with several passengers aboard, attempted to go to sea by wind power alone. Just at the critical moment the wind chopped round several points, and she began to make rapid stern way. The Lurline actually touched the reef, but an anchor was let go, and the smart seamanship of the port pilot saved her from damage. She was stopped just out in the nick of time, and a line carried out to the donkey engine of another ship hauled her back to her original anchorage whence she managed, at the next attempt, to get to sea on Friday morning. Later she was followed by the Antelope. The Eva will likely get away Saturday, and it almost looks as if the harbor would then be empty for the first time since last November.

Of course the hoodoo Mokihana is still left, but then she is on the beach, and seems persistently determined to either stay there, or sail up to the great Wailuku boom. Her owner has put another patch on the latest hole in her bottom, and is negotiating to have the Takulua pull her into the water again. If this plan succeeds she will be taken across to the ways and be given one more overhauling. A kahuna will also be engaged to persuade her to forego her part in the aforesaid boom and allow herself to be put to more lucrative uses.

HILO HAS GONE MILITARY MAD

One National Guard Company Formed and Two More Planned.

Hilo seems to have the military fever pretty badly. Following the mustering in of a company there some time ago, by Major J. W. Pratt, comes the news that the young men of the town are thinking of organizing two more companies. A number of names have already been secured for the charter members, and the young men who are at the head of the organizations are so enthusiastic on the subject that there seems little doubt of success.

A meeting of all interested in National Guard work in Honolulu has been called for next Saturday evening at the Drill Shed for the purpose of organizing a new company of the First Regiment, to be known as Company E.
The new company will be organized that evening, and the officers will be elected. Major E. O. White will preside at the meeting and enlist the recruits.

William A. Hitter, first lieutenant of Company A, First Regiment, has been with rank from August 20.

Major J. W. Pratt is acting adjutant general during the absence of Adjutant General Soper.
